Art Institute

Teachers and assistants are welcome to take classes when they are not working, for example, they teach in the morning and take class in the afternoon, or visa versa.

TEACHER ASSIGNMENTS: Students will be assigned a teacher at registration and every evening at the group sessions from 4:30 to 5:30pm. This is like a "Round Robin" assignment daily.

Four-day session: Those taking all four days will be with all eight teachers.

Two-day session: Each student will pick six out of the eight teachers to take the two-day session and their names will be in the drawing for the first two-day drawings only. So, they will not get two of their choices. Hopefully they will understand, if they do not get their favorite choice.

SUPPLIES TO BRING: Paint Brushes Only!!!! (There is not room for each of your "Kitchen Sinks")! We will let you know what type of brushes or pencils you will need. Please be respectful of this rule.

Supplies: Will be prepared for each teacher for each class and are part of our costs. This is so you spend your entire time painting. Not mixing your paints! This includes: Paints, Mediums, Turpentine, Resist: Etc.

White Porcelain: You will purchase the porcelain that is needed for each class at the shop in the museum or it will be in your classroom for you to use. There is a charge for your white porcelain.

FIRING: We will do our best – be prepared to bring home wet porcelain – bring your own container.

THEME: Your interpretation of a “VANISHING POINT”!

The winners will be asked to display their piece at the Museum – until the next Art Institute in 2 years.

Show us your interpretation of a “Vanishing Point”!

Do you need a few hints?

Landscapes, architectural, sunsets, fences, stairs, Etc.

A vanishing point, or point of convergence, is a key element in many works of art. In a linear perspective drawing, the vanishing point is the spot on the horizon line to which the receding parallel lines diminish. It is what allows us to create drawings, paintings, and photographs that have a three-dimensional look.

Our Challenge will always be about art, giving us the chance to talk and discuss our work like artists.

I will take suggestions regarding our next challenge.
